Course Description

This course focuses on economic inequality within countries and at the global level. The first part of the course is an overview of comparative inequality within countries and its components: inequality between and within capital and labor, the creation, valuation, and persistence of wealth, explanations for unequal labor incomes among workers and between employers, and the combination of capital and labor income inequality in each country's personal income distribution. This section of the course relies heavily on Capital in the 21st Century.

The course will then move to a series of topics:

- Absolute wellbeing and deprivation (poverty), as well as inequality in health and life expectancy as measures of absolute welfare.
- Inequality by race and gender.
- Global inequality, mobility of capital and labor between countries, as well as trends in inequality within developing countries, with several example countries.
- Social mobility: inheritance of economic status between generations, from parents to children, as well as the societal mechanisms that contribute to or erode it.

Course Outcomes

By the end of this course, you will be able to:

- Identify and understand trends in inequality in the US, other countries, and globally, over time.
- Distinguish inequality between and within capital and labor.
- Understand different measures of poverty and how they have changed over time.
- Explain the persistence of inequality on the basis of race and gender and understand the mechanisms that give rise to it.
- Understand how global inequality relates to within-country inequality, different countries' recent experience with inequality, and how absolute and relative measures of inequality relate to one another.
- Comprehend scholarly and public debates about the causes of inequality, and critically assess explanations for trends in inequality in light of the evidence.

Teaching and Learning Methods

This course is a seminar that invites discussion of important and controversial contemporary issues. Synchronous class meetings on Zoom will consist of presented material: explanation of core concepts, empirical data, and original scholarship.

Asynchronous course materials, including required readings, will provide lengthier explication of the material. Each week there will be a Canvas-based discussion board in which key questions will be posed related to that week's topics. Students are required to participate in those discussions.

There will be both a midterm and a final exam. For each of them, students will have one day to complete and upload their exams (the questions will be posted in the morning, and responses must be uploaded by that night), though the actual work should not take longer than a class period.

Students should feel able to express themselves at all times in class, on online discussion boards, and in their assignments and exams. Please maintain a climate of mutual respect for one another.

University Policies

1. The Americans with Disabilities Act. The University of Utah seeks to provide equal access to its programs, services, and activities for people with disabilities. If you will need accommodations in this class, reasonable prior notice needs to be given to the Center for Disability Services, 162 Olpin Union Building, (801) 581-5020. CDS will work with you and the instructor to make arrangements for accommodations. All written information in this course can be made available in an alternative format with prior notification to the Center for Disability Services.
2. University Safety Statement. The University of Utah values the safety of all campus community members. To report suspicious activity or to request a courtesy escort, call campus police at 801-585-COPS (801-585-2677). You will receive important emergency alerts and safety messages regarding campus safety via text message.

For more information regarding safety and to view available training resources, including helpful videos, visit safeu.utah.edu.

3. Addressing Sexual Misconduct. Title IX makes it clear that violence and harassment based on sex and gender (which includes sexual orientation and gender identity/expression) is a civil rights offense subject to the same kinds of accountability and the same kinds of support applied to offenses against other protected categories such as race, national origin, color, religion, age, status as a person with a disability, veteran's status or genetic information. If you or someone you know has been harassed or assaulted, you are encouraged to report it to the Title IX Coordinator in the Office of Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action, 135 Park Building, 801-581-8365, or the Office of the Dean of Students, 270 Union Building, 801-581-7066. For support and confidential consultation, contact the Center for Student Wellness, 426 SSB, 801-581-7776. To report to the police, contact the Department of Public Safety, 801-585-2677(COPS).

4. Undocumented Student Support Statement. Immigration is a complex phenomenon with broad impact—those who are directly affected by it, as well as those who are indirectly affected by their relationships with family members, friends, and loved ones. If your immigration status presents obstacles to engaging in specific activities or fulfilling specific course criteria, confidential arrangements may be requested from the Dream Center. Arrangements with the Dream Center will not jeopardize your student status, your financial aid, or any other part of your residence. The Dream Center offers a wide range of resources to support undocumented students (with and without DACA) as well as students from mixed-status families. To learn more, please contact the Dream Center at 801.213.3697 or visit dream.utah.edu.

5. Mask-wearing. Based on CDC guidelines, the University requires everyone to wear face coverings in shared public spaces on campus, including our classroom. As a reminder, when I wear a face covering, I am protecting you. When you wear a face covering, you are protecting me and all of your classmates. If you forget your face covering, I will ask you to leave class to retrieve it. If you repeatedly fail to wear a face covering for in-person meetings, I will refer you to the Dean of Students for a possible violation of the Student Code. Note that some students may qualify for accommodations through the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). If you think you meet these criteria and desire an exception to the face covering policy, contact the Center for Disability and Access (CDA). Accommodations should be obtained prior to the first day of class so that I am notified by CDA of any students who are not required to wear a face covering.

Course Policies

Attendance & Punctuality: Attendance at synchronous class meetings on Thursdays is strongly recommended, and any material discussed in lectures, required readings, online discussions, and on homework assignments is fair game for exams.

Participation: All students are expected to participate in online class discussion boards on Canvas.

Canvas: It is students' responsibility to keep up with assignments and due dates posted to Canvas and read the material posted there.

Academic integrity: Plagiarism is strictly prohibited. If you are detected copying the work of others, either fellow students or published material, the minimum penalty is a grade of zero on whatever exam or assignment is plagiarized. Additional penalties, as specified in university policies, may be applied above that.

Grading Policy

Final grades will be determined by weighted numerical average (not the raw averages reported on Canvas).

CSBS EMERGENCY ACTION PLAN

BUILDING EVACUATION

EAP (Emergency Assembly Point) – When you receive a notification to evacuate the building either by campus text alert system or by building fire alarm, please follow your instructor in an orderly fashion to the EAP marked on the map below. Once everyone is at the EAP, you will receive further instructions from Emergency Management personnel. You can also look up the EAP for any building you may be in on campus at <http://emergencymanagement.utah.edu/eap>.

CAMPUS RESOURCES

U Heads Up App: There's an app for that. Download the app on your smartphone at alert.utah.edu/headsup to access the following resources:

- Emergency Response Guide: Provides instructions on how to handle any type of emergency, such as earthquake, utility failure, fire, active shooter, etc. Flip charts with this information are also available around campus.
- See Something, Say Something: Report unsafe or hazardous conditions on campus. If you see a life threatening or emergency situation, please call 911!

Safety Escorts: For students who are on campus at night or past business hours and would like an escort to your car, please call 801-585-2677. You can call 24/7 and a security officer will be sent to walk with you or give you a ride to your desired on-campus location.
